Liberty Science Center

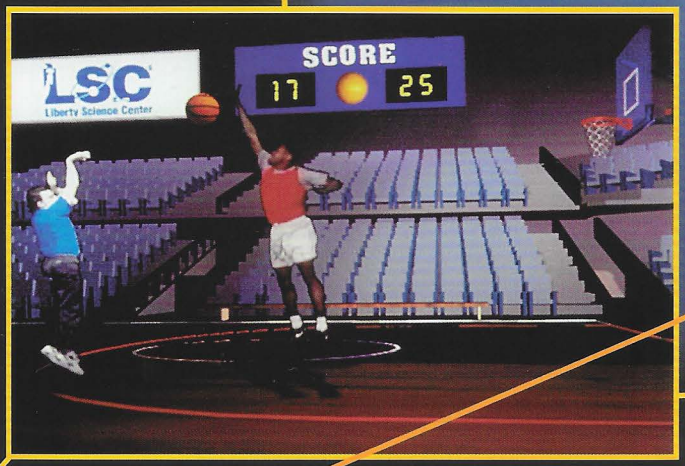
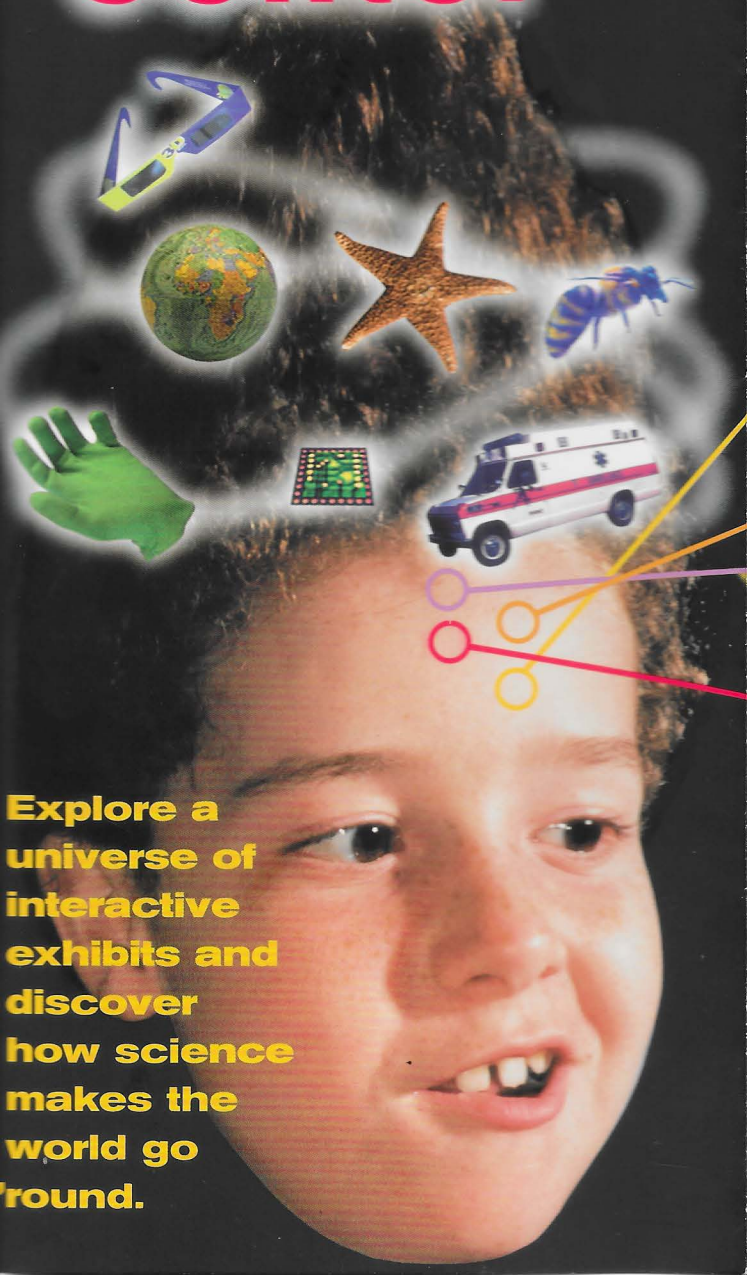
"How is it that something so decidedly educational can be such raucous fun?"

– The New York Times, June 29, 1997





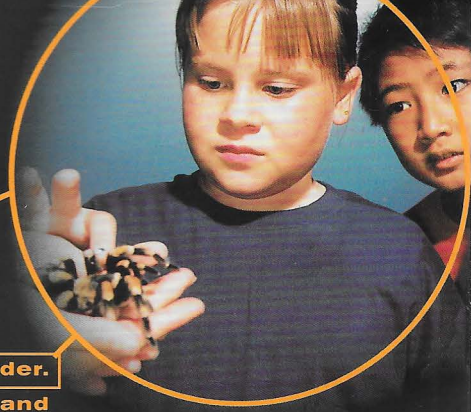
Explore a universe of interactive exhibits and discover how science makes the world go 'round.

Whether you're feeling your way through our pitch-black Touch Tunnel, going head-to-head with a computer in virtual reality basketball, or cuddling up to an insect with a hundred legs, Liberty Science Center gives you first-hand experiences you'll never forget.

Where there's smoke, there's not always fire. See liquid nitrogen become a puff of smoke before your very eyes.

"Go visit the Liberty Science Center; it's really cool...you'll love it!"

–Al Roker on The Today Show, March 30, 1998



Goodbye, itsy bitsy spider. Touch the tarantula and other creepy crawlies in our teeming Bug Zoo.

If the glove fits, wear it. Try your hand at Virtual Hoops, Cyber Pong or Virtual Soccer where you can become a Liberty Science Center hot shot.

Get down and dirty. Make mud pies, chart the course of a river, or just check out what life is like in a real Water World with our Stream Table.

"I'll be back..it's fabulous! Liberty Science Center is great..."

–Bill Nye The Science Guy on Good Day New York, July 30, 1998

"Museums used to be boring but not anymore! Liberty Science Center – it's a good one!"

–The Sci-Fi Channel, "Sci-Fi Buzz"

People of all ages are discovering Liberty Science Center– Where Science = Fun. Families can spend an entire day with hundreds of interactive exhibits on our three exhibit floors that focus on Invention, Health and the Environment. Be a part of the excitement as you hold a live sea urchin or a giant exotic insect, crawl in the 100-foot-long Touch Tunnel, play virtual reality basketball, experience the 3D laser show, or be a part of the action in the IMAX® Dome Theater, the largest in the U.S. With so much to see and do, including touring exhibits from around the world, you'll want to come back time and time again!
